

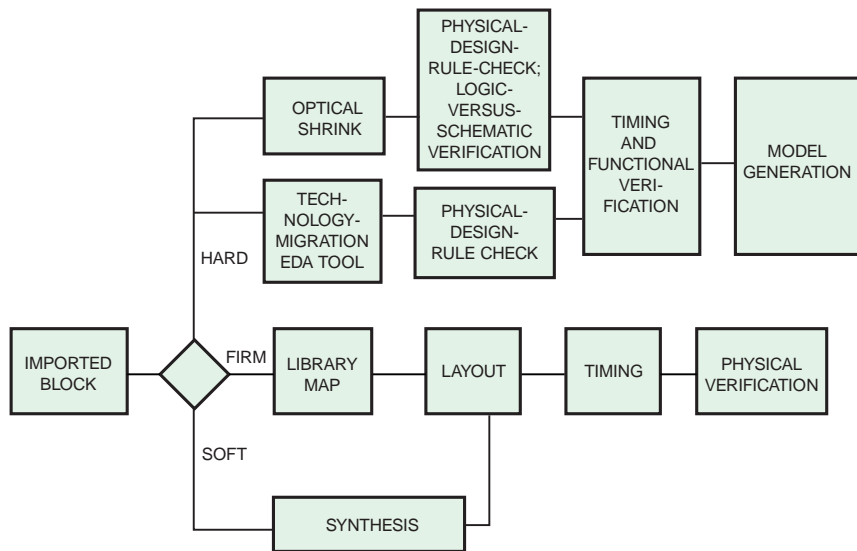

Figure 3

If you use a core that the core vendor has not defined for your chip's target technology, you have to retarget the core. The retargeting strategy depends on the core's representation: hard, firm, or soft.