

With a pair of ICs from STMicroelectronics and host-PC-based software, you can build a small, flexible, low-power USB-compatible V.90 fax/modem; an early-1999 upgrade will replace the transformer DAA with an all-silicon version.