

Several high-powered math packages enable you to mathematically describe and display 3-D surfaces, such as this mesh, which represents the fringing field from a toroidal inductor. This color presentation was created in Waterloo Maple's Maple 8.