

Figure 5 This bathtub curve for an ideal situation shows that, by carefully positioning the point within the UI (unit interval) at which your system samples the data stream, you can achieve an error rate of 10^{-16} , or one error in 10 quadrillion bits.