

Figure 3

A nonfragmenting memory allocator reaches steady state as soon as it exercises all the parts of the application.