

Figure 1

The high dV/dT values that characterise phase-angle control create power-line noise with appreciable energy to 10 kHz and beyond.