

LeCroy's WaveExpert, NRO (near-real-time oscilloscope), and SDA100G sampling scopes form a series that you can equip with sampling heads that provide 100-GHz bandwidth on four channels. Although they don't sample in real time, they sample 50 times as fast and store records many times as long as those of sequential-sampling scopes, the only scopes whose bandwidth is nearly as wide.

---