

Figure 3 A varying magnetic field induces in a pickup loop a voltage proportional to the loop area and rate of change of the field component normal to the plane of the loop.
