

Figure 20 The horizontal-scale expansion reveals that the “equivalent” capacitor produces two times more amplitude error than the one in Figure 18. Mismatched probe delays cause time skewing between traces.
