

Figure 17 The amplitude over frequency for the random-noise generator is essentially flat to 500 kHz. The NC103 noise diode contributes to an even noise-spectrum distribution, and the rms converter and control loop stabilize the amplitude. The measurement sweep time is 2.8 minutes, and the resolution bandwidth is 100 Hz.

---