

Figure 7 This configuration mounts the DUT on long standoffs that do not touch the PCB. Copper-clad boards serve as shielding (courtesy National Semiconductor).

---