

Figure 2 The TDMA phone standard uses radio protocols that result in bursts of RF at 50 Hz. You hear the demodulation of the signal envelope in stereos and clock radios.

---