

Figure 2 Monolithic silicon tuners offer performance meeting the rigorous requirements of leading TV manufacturers and also integrate all the hybrid-TV-receiver functions, including the analog demodulation, in a 7×7-mm surface-mount package with substantially lower power consumption than currently available CAN modules.