

Figure 2 Using multiple sensors to make decisions requires extra memory for each sensor to support buffering and the processing for correlating the data with other sensor inputs (courtesy Freescale).