

Figure 3 Traditional loop-back tests, such as this one on a PCIe eye mask, often fail to give accurate results when link speeds increase into the multiple-gigatransitions/sec range.