

Figure 2 The green wires prevent the faulty chassis from remaining energized but do not prevent large voltages from appearing between points C and D.