

Figure 4

High-speed stream encryption of the display information, plus periodic block encryption for authentication, come together to form the HDCP scheme for digital displays (courtesy Silicon Image).