Tesline-Service Announces Rohos Logon Key v.1.1 for Mac OS X

EDN Staff - July 11, 2008

Chisinau, July 11, 2008 – Tesline-Service SRL, is a small software company specializing in PC security solutions today announced that it’s Rohos Logon Key - authentication solution supports Mac OS® X Tiger and Mac OS® X Leopard.

The solution provides a hardware-based authentication, thus:
• Access your Mac with hardware USB key
• The Mac is protected but you don't need to enter your password manually each time you unlock your Mac;
• Automatically lock your MAC screen when USB Key is unplugged;
• Unlocking your MAC with a USB token is fully automatic and fast!

“Tesline-Service continually works to provide to its valued customers with the best solution to protect their Mac. Rohos Logon Key v.1.1 is not just a desktop locker anymore like v.1.0 has been, but an authentication solution” said Alexander Silonosov, General Manager, Tesline-Service. “As the unique software developer, Tesline-Service is pleased to announce support for Mac’s latest operating system."

About Rohos Logon Key
The program enables users to access Mac in an easy, fast and secure way using USB key. Our software is designed to be both powerful and easy to use. Using USB flash drive as a regular key to your Mac requires a special design for software functions. Your Mac information is well protected with Rohos Data Security software, but it is much easier to work with it. For more information, please visit: http://www.rohos.com/mac-os-x/

The Mac Version costs - $19 USD. It’s a 15 day trial version.
